About Duende Natural

The Duende Community Enterprise Group (DCEG), LLC & Duende Natural was founded in 2012 by a group of friends from Brooklyn, New York with strong Caribbean roots and a passion for nature and the environment. Duende' is a Spanish word which means the smallest spark of spiritual essence.

DCEG is comprised of community based entrepreneurs whose pooled resources have created an initiative with the capability to address two major demands in the tourism and eco-tourism investment industry:

1) A community supported glamping (glamour+camping) Eco-lodge that creates sustainable and conservation-oriented tourism experiences. We capture the essence of local community culture and know how, with limited effect on the natural eco-system. People will have the experience of a lifetime and respect the environment at the same time. This dynamic experience will soon be a must visit tourist destination.

2) An opportunity for those interested in owning an exotic getaway to purchase land within walking distance of our Eco-lodge resort. Homes built on the land will have the advantage of renting the property when not in use to help re-coup the initial Investment. DCEG provides an in-house management team that will seek renters, and manage the property and finances so that owners just have to collect the monies they earn.

Duende Natural uses earth-based living skills, nature awareness and indigenous practices to create a partnership between our members, visitors, students and the environment. Our aim is to create an eco-friendly future for ourselves, our children and our communities to provide a natural, organic and holistic way of life.
